

The Next Generation Global Health Security Network was established in 2014 to engage and facilitate contributions by emerging scholars, scientists, and professionals from government and non-governmental institutions to the Global Health Security Agenda and other global health security initiatives.

During the GHSA NextGen Side Event, Tuesday, November 6 from 7:30-9:00, conference attendees will have an opportunity to learn about the innovative project from the winning team of the NTI-sponsored “Biosecurity Competition”, collaborative projects with other GHSA partners, and upcoming priority activities aligned with the strategic vision to promote education, innovation and participation of our members in the GHSA.

Lastly, in conjunction with the Smithsonian Museum of Natural History, meeting attendees will be the first to see the highly-anticipated Outbreak Exhibit.

The exhibit has been displayed all around the world and NextGen is thrilled to unveil the exhibit at our side event.

For questions about the event
please contact nextgenhsa@gmail.com